Little Girl Receives Severe Injuries

Little Katie Sellars, about 7 years of age, a granddaughter of Mr. J. Shultz, was badly burned on Wednesday morning. It appears that she was playing in the brush near Mr. Shultz's residence with some other children and they must have had some matches and set the brush on fire. Dr. Evans was called immediately and everything possible was done to relieve her sufferings but she is so badly burned that it is doubtful if she will recover. Mr. Sellars, who is employed in Calgary, was telephoned for immediately and arrived on Wednesday afternoon. The little girl's mother died a few years ago.

Big Railway Preparations to Move Crops

WINNIPEG, Man., July 17.—With banking circles moving funds into the west with which to finance the crop, railroad preparation in the same direction and prospects for a record yield improving daily, business conditions in all lines show marked improvement. Not a cloud on the horizon, is the way mill men and grain grower officials estimate condition of grain. If purchases of binder twine suggest the magnitude of the farmers it is evident the yield will approximate 1915. Fedine is averaging 14 cents to the farmer in most localities and with the heavy straw the percentage of increase necessary to handle the crop will be rather high.

The National Railways show 320 locomotives and 70,000 box cars put through the western lines this spring in preparation for the crop movement, while the C. P. R. has over one thousand engines and forty thousand grain cars sent through the railways for action.

These preparations mean a big increase in crews, station and yardmen for at least four months. Getting is under way in a number of sections with the very well covered and averaging high. Other lines of business on the prairies are showing the impacts of the unusual crop prospects.

Don't Push

Reports from all parts of Western Canada are at the time this article is written, distinctly optimistic so far as crop conditions are concerned. The heavy spring rains, while they retarded sowing operations in some districts, and resulted in certain low lying lands not being sowed, nevertheless proved an ideal seed bed. Then, during the latter part of June copious rains have fallen fairly generally throughout the West giving the growing grain sturdy development and providing needed moisture for rapid growth.

Sections of the country which during recent years have been afflicted with the grasshopper plague report a marked decrease in the pest, while never before have farmers generally been so well informed and ready to fight this danger.

Reductions in freight rates, and the passing of legislation calculated to assist in the marketing of the crop without such a disastrous decline in prices as took place last year, are also encouraging features of the situation, leading to the hope that, providing the crop passes through the dangers still ahead, a reasonably profitable return on the season's operations will be realized.

It is never wise, however, to flatter on a crop until it is actually harvested and marketed because sudden, unanticipated and severe, and so many factors have to be considered. Conditions should not be assumed before they are touched, and neither should the probabilities of the Western grain crop be assessed until they become actualities.

Evidence is not lacking even at this early date that some credit and corporations, to whom farmers are largely in debt, are figuring on and preparing for what they term a "clean up" this year. In other words, they are planning to conduct aggressive debt-collecting campaigns. In some very isolated cases steps have already been taken to effect introduction of more, cases on the strength of growing crops and without giving the individual farmer an opportunity to himself realize on his year's labor and little place himself in a position to meet his liabilities to the extent that the crop may place him in funds to do so.

The fact ought to be, and must be, realized that in those sections which have suffered from repeated crop failures in recent years one crop will not liquidate the debts which have been contracted. It has taken several years' losses to put many farmers in the position in which they now unfortunately find themselves, and it would be both foolish and cruel if drastic measures of debt collection were taken. Yet when a man has several creditors it is impossible, in the face of the reality, to take drastic action, the others who are willing to be reasonable must adopt somewhat similar measures in order to protect themselves and not allow the irresponsible creditor to go away with everything in their own pocket.

In a few isolated cases it has already been necessary for governments to wear unreasonable creditors that, if the result in demanding their pound of flesh without giving the debtor a fair chance, an individual bona fide farmer will be asked to protect his man and his other creditors. Should this system characteristic become at all general, Governments might be forced, much as they would regret the necessity, to declare a moratorium in order to prevent the precipitation of a situation which would prove disastrous to all around.

On the other hand it must be fully recognized that there is an unwieldy burden of debt now resting on the country which must be paid off to the last dollar. It is possible to suppose that this year's production and yet leave the debtor to enable families to enjoy the necessities of life and continue to "carry over" next year. The whole credit system of the country, and the stability of the entire financial and business fabric demands this, this done. There can be no sympathy in any general sense for the man who does not deal honestly and honestly with his creditors, and make every possible effort to pay off his liabilities.

There is, therefore, liberality for itself, for mutual understanding, trust with and active co-operation between debtors and creditors this year. There must be no tenderness on the part of the lender to evade or procrastinate, but on the other hand, every effort to meet the creditors' demands, but may and fairly to the extent of his ability. Creditors, on the other hand, must appreciate the fact that this year's crop will not pay the three, four and sometimes five years' no crop. They must, therefore, be reasonable, and those who are not, are responsible and be taken in hand and compelled to be so.

The national interest demands not merely an appreciation of these things, but a practical recognition of them. National interests are paramount, and above are individual or sectional interests, and if the latter do not to their common conduct themselves to the national interest demands, well, then they must be made to do so.

OVERWORKED NERVES

The Most Successful Treatment is

Through the Blood. The early stages of nervous debility are marked by restlessness and irritability in which the nervous system is oppressed by their nerves. As the trouble advances, common symptoms are: tired feeling; weakness in the knees and ankles; headaches, back aches and sleeplessness. The patient requires thoughtful attention, or such a but suitable treatment will prevent a complete breakdown.

The nervous system covers the whole body, controlling heart, lungs, digestion and brain, so that it is not surprising that nervous disturbances cause acute distress. For troubles of this kind Dr. Williams' Pink Pills succeed where no treatment fails. On these pills make new blood, enriched with the elements on which the nervous thrives, and in this way reach the root of the trouble. In proof of this is the statement of Mrs. Decora, of Detroit, Mich., who says:

"My daughter, Martha, was suffering from nervous debility, and the usual remedies did not seem to help her. I was advised to let her take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and soon she found they were doing her a great deal of good. She complained of pains in the stomach, and a severe fluttering of the heart, with a general weakness. Under the use of these pills she continued to gain, and I believe they have saved her from going to the hospital."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

About Advertising

To Be Effective It Must Be Persistent

The Montreal Star makes an interesting and pointed business remark when it declares that "January's advertising is the life of the year and June and June's will help December."

There is a word of truth, reason and significance in this pretty utterance and a little reflection will show why this is so. Effective advertising is not to be spasmodic but must be persistent. To hope for instant and sustained results from one or two advertisements is to expect the impossible. It is through one loved by it, at reading school a day or two every six months to become an educated man. The one is as absurd as the other.

The wise advertiser is he who advertises regularly week in and week out and regards his initial advertising as the builder regards his foundation—a basis for the permanent superstructure that is to rise later—Kingston Standard.

BANK'S MEMORIAL TO ITS GLORIOUS DEAD

Sir James Aikins delivering an oration at unveiling of Union Bank of Canada Memorial

Commemorating the heroism of 129 officers of the Bank who gave up their lives in the Great War, the memorial of the Union Bank of Canada has just been unveiled, at McElhannon, 50 miles from Winnipeg, Sir James Aikins, the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, officiated. Equipped with the ceremonial W. H. Allen, President of the Union Bank of Canada, gave over the deed to 15 acres on Lake Winnipeg for the permanent site of the Lakehead Forest Air Camp for Children as the gift of the Bank, thus "completing the memorial of the Bank's heroic officers with the highest type of service to humanity."

This memorial is significant as the national recognition by the Union Bank of Canada of its officers' participation in the Great War. The Bank directors in determining the memorial to mark the self sacrifice of its staff inclined to the view that sacrifice of such a nature should be marked by some corresponding service for the good of humanity and in consequence decided to perpetuate the movement initiated by H. H. Shaw, the Bank's Vice-President and General Manager, in starting a fresh air camp for Winnipeg's needy children. Nearly 1,000 children will be given a holiday at the Association's camp this year.

Six hundred representative persons witnessed the unveiling and took part in the impressive dedicatory services at which His Grace, Archbishop Matheson officiated. Major-General Johnston, C.B., C.M.G., and staff represented the military.

Bearing itself strong and bold, a single shaft of Tyndall stone that was quarried in the Province of Manitoba, the memorial majestically evidences that spirit of physical and moral courage which was the competitive force behind the heroism of Canada's glorious dead. The monument has a remarkably picturesque setting. It is erected on an elevation which looks into Lake Winnipeg, and recessed in the background is a group of silver birches. Surrounding the camp are pine trees, representing each of the Provinces of the Dominion. Carved on the facade is an oblong tablet, upon which have been carved the names of the 129 who compose the Honour Roll of the Union Bank of Canada.

FOREST FIRES AND AUTO TOURISTS

The Indianapolis News refers to the closing of large areas of the Canadian forests to campers, hunters, fishermen and tourists during the present season, and the threat of the New York conservation commission to follow the Canadian example in forests under its control. This declares the News, invites attention to to the forest fire menace. "The Canadian government," it adds "tried various ways of educating forest visitors to observe a few simple safety rules intended to eliminate the chance of fire through carelessness but the visitors failed to do their part and a more drastic remedy was applied. In some of the New York state forests, fires of any kind are prohibited for the same reason."

Considering that the annual loss from forest fires in the United States and Canada runs to scores of millions of dollars, the need of some drastic preventive measure is clear. The automobile camper is the main offender. He throws lighted cigars or cigarettes into the forest as he passes through or leaves his campfire burning when he passes on. He destroys crops and fences in the same way, but as yet there is no special effort to stop this practice. When farmers organize to protect their property from unprincipled motor tourists, they will probably do what they can to curb the destructiveness of the touring firebug.

Closing forest areas has been resorted to as a plan to impress upon them the necessity for observing a few common sense rules. There is no suggestion that the forests anywhere must be permanently closed to tourists, for much of their value to the people is in their facilities for recreation, but as long as destruction through carelessness is the price of recreation, the closing expedient can be justified. This leaves the forest fire question in the hands of the tourists, who are responsible for so much of the damage, and since they suffer from the rule, it should produce quick and satisfactory results.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red hot days and scorching nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be especially on her guard to prevent these troubles or if they come on suddenly to fight them. No other medicine is so safe and so sure during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come, on suddenly will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Recipe

Teacher: "What beautiful clean hands—yours have, Tommy. Just tell the class how you got them so clean." Tommy (easily):—"My mother made me wash the breakfast dishes this morning."

Dust Causes Asthma. Even a little speck too small to see will lead to asthma which no words can describe. The walls of the breathing tubes contract and it seems as if the very first must pass. From this condition Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy brings the user to perfect rest. It relieves the passages and normal breathing is finally established again. Hundreds of testimonials received annually prove its effectiveness.

Some people's excuse for making bad habits is that it is never too late to break.

Just Like Mother's

The little Miss of today just loves to feel grown up, and here is a dress especially designed to satisfy this longing. It is of pale green drapery over a slip of pearl color, cape de Chine. The high collar and the light buttoned cuffs give this little model the "grown-up" effect so much desired by the little ladies.

RAILROAD MAN SAYS SYSTEM IS IN FINE SHAPE

He Now Eats Better, Sleeps Better, Works Better, and Feels Better Since Tanlae Ended His Stomach Trouble, Declares A. J. Snortle.

"Tanlae put me in such good shape as you can't have been feeling since ever since," said A. J. Snortle, 315 Victor St. Winnipeg, Man., a well-known machinist for the Canadian National Railway.

"About three years ago I had a nervous breakdown that kept me in bed for six weeks and I lost my sleep for a long time. I was so nervous and restless I could hardly sleep a wink. My appetite was poor, my food gave me little nourishment and I was in a badly run-down condition."

"Tanlae started helping me right at the root and now I eat better, work better, get plenty of sleep and feel great. If anybody has a right to recommend Tanlae I certainly have."

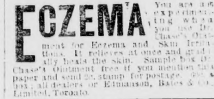

Tanlae is sold by all good druggists.

STICK TO FACTS

When you start to advertise—
Stick to facts;
Good business isn't built on lies.
Stick to facts;
No matter what you have to sell,
The truth is good enough to tell;
Boost your goods and boost them well.
But stick to facts.
When tempted to exaggerate,
Stick to facts;
Tell the truth don't overstate,
Stick to facts;

If the truth is not enough, Something's wrong about your stuff.
Anyway, don't try to bluff—
Stick to facts.
Makers, merchants, middlemen,
Stick to facts;
Pick your points with pungent pen.
Stick to facts;
That others make their figures
lie,
Boosting of their values high,
Causing trouble to pass you by—
You stick to facts.

FOR EVERY DAY

Through days of grievous heartache,
In nights of bitter pain,
So many hopes have faded
So many plans proved vain;
But still the silver lining
Brings the clouds overhead,
And never hopes come throng-
ing
Swift after those that fled,
Always another dawning
Follows the darkest night,
Turn then from cheerless brood-
ing
Look for the gleaming light;
Lift up the weak and weary
Who follow by the way,
So shall you find new blessings
Attend you every day.

DEVOTIONAL BIBLE CONFERENCE

Last September the Zella and Westcott Baptist churches held several meetings addressed by Mrs. E. B. York. On that occasion Mrs. York's visit was very short, but her gracious spirit and her ability as a Bible teacher created locally a desire for another visit and a further series of her addresses.

Mrs. York is again in the West and it has been arranged to hold a Devotional Bible Conference at Zella and Westcott at which she will be the speaker.
The Zella conference opens next Sunday, July 23rd in the Zella school, with meetings at 11 a.
m. and 8 p. m. It is planned to continue with a meeting at 8 p. m. each evening following for two weeks.

A feature arranged to make it a conference in the real sense of the word will be the question time when opportunity will be afforded for submitting questions about Bible difficulties or matters pertaining to the Christian life.

Announcement as to the exact date of the Westcott meetings will be made later. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to all.
